Re: Sacred Wind Communications, Inc. and Qwest Corporation, WC Docket No. 06-82, CC Docket No. 96-45, WC Docket No. 03-109

Dear Ms. Dortch:

In response to a request from Commission Staff, Sacred Wind Communications, Inc. (“Sacred Wind”), by its attorneys, hereby submits additional data in support of its pending Joint Petition for Expedited Waiver, which was filed jointly with Qwest Corporation on March 30, 2006 in the above-referenced dockets.

In a letter filed on June 20, 2006, Sacred Wind submitted additional data and an associated map to further substantiate its need for a waiver of the Commission’s stay on the provision of Enhanced Lifeline and Link Up support for the near-Reservation lands adjacent to the Eastern Navajo Agency and within Sacred Wind’s service territory. Among other things, Sacred Wind provided information, specific to these regions, which established their eligibility for a waiver of the Commission’s stay. See June 20, 2006 Letter to Ms. Marlene Dortch, Secretary of the Federal Communications Commission, at pp. 2-3.

Commission Staff has requested that Sacred Wind provide the underlying data referenced in its letter of June 20, 2006. Accordingly, Sacred Wind submits the following data and corrects certain statistics previously provided:

1. In its June 20 letter, Sacred Wind indicated that the 2000 Census placed 53.8 percent of all Navajo families residing on tribal lands in New Mexico below the national poverty level. The correct figure is 41.8 percent, and can be found at Table DP-3 (Profile of Selected Economic Characteristics: 2000) on page 3 of the 2000 Census data appended hereto as Exhibit 1 and available at <http://censtats.census.gov/data/NM/280352430.pdf>.

2. In its June 20 letter, Sacred Wind also estimated that the unemployment rate for Navajo families in New Mexico is between 55.5 and 58 percent. The 2000 Census data appended hereto as Exhibit 1 estimate that 54.4 percent of residents of the New Mexico portions of the Navajo Nation are not in the labor force. See Exhibit 1 at Table DP-3 (Profile of Selected Economic Characteristics: 2000), p. 3. An economic development study prepared by the Navajo Nation's Division of Economic Development estimates the unemployment rate for the New Mexico portions of the Navajo Nation is 52.76 percent, and specifically in the Eastern Navajo Agency is 70.53 percent. See Tables 15-A and 15-B of the 2002-2003 Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy of the Navajo Nation, Trib Choudhary, Navajo Nation Division of Economic Development, appended hereto as Exhibit 2.
3. In its June 20 letter, Sacred Wind stated that telephone penetration rates overall for Sacred Wind's service territory is estimated to be approximately 28 percent. This estimate is based upon a proprietary study commissioned by Sacred Wind, which compared the number of access lines Sacred Wind will be purchasing from Qwest, and hence the approximate number of homes served, and the total number of households estimated within Sacred Wind's service territory. Sacred Wind also notes that the 2000 Census data appended hereto as Exhibit 1 estimate that 54.8 of the residents of the New Mexico portions of the Navajo Nation have no telephone service – a figure that correlates to a telephone penetration rate of 45.2 percent. See Exhibit 1 at Table DP-4 (Profile of Selected Housing Characteristics: 2000), p. 4.
4. In its June 20 letter, Sacred Wind also described in general terms the overall demographics and economic condition of the near-Reservation lands adjacent to the Eastern Navajo Agency for which it seeks a waiver. Among other things, Sacred Wind stated that the lands are: (a) inhabited almost exclusively by Navajo Nation tribal members; (b) extremely remote, with many residents living great distances from the larger Navajo housing clusters and communities (let alone urban centers), and many miles from state, federal or tribal highways and roads; (c) even more isolated than the remainder of Sacred Wind's service territory, such that the provision of basic telephone service is often cost-prohibitive. These factual descriptions are derived from a variety of sources, including the personal observations of those most familiar with the service territory Sacred Wind will be acquiring. Sacred Wind is in the process of securing, and will be filing in the appropriate dockets, a letter from the Huerfano Chapter supporting these statements.

In sum, the near-Reservation lands adjacent to the Eastern Navajo Agency that Sacred Wind intends to serve have the same impediments to subscribership as the adjacent Eastern Navajo Agency lands. Extending Enhanced Lifeline and Link Up support to the residents of these lands will help ensure that affordable high-quality telecommunications services are brought to many Navajo peoples who have never had telephone service, or have been unable to afford to maintain it. Special circumstances thus exist to justify a waiver of the Commission's stay.

Respectfully submitted,

SACRED WIND COMMUNICATIONS, INC.

*Includes various Navajo Nation Government offices including Chapter houses.

**A number of Chapters seemingly have negative unemployment rates. However, actual unemployment rates in these Chapters are very high. This is so because the number of jobs available in these Chapters is larger than the Labor Force. A number of these jobs may have been taken by the residents of the neighboring Chapters.

***NONN: Not on the Navajo Nation.
